

E. Nesbit

A book about children who find magic in every day life ... and discover that mermen and mermaids actually have a whole underwater kingdom with Kings and Queens and of course Princesses. Of course you probably know these delightful children from their earlier adventures with magic, Bernard, Mavis, Kathleen, and Francis. Just normal children who believe in the fun of imagining and of magic. In this story Francis, who has always loved the idea of the sea but has never actually seen it, is very excited about going to the seashore for holiday. He finds an old aquarium and the others help him lug it home only to have their hopes dashed by Aunt Enid who was in charge temporarily. But then the magic starts when he unwittingly recites a magic charm. At the seashore the children execute a daring rescue of a supposed mermaid who 'die in captivity' and oh, lots and lots more. Enjoy these adventurous children and their wet magic in the sea.

Read by Phil Chenevert

Meta Co-ordinator: Phil Chenevert
Proof Listener: Mark Chulsky

Total running time: 05:48:21

This recording is in the public domain and may be reproduced, distributed, or modified without permission. For more information or to volunteer, visit librivox.org.
Cover picture from book; cover background from publicdomainpictures.net. Copyright expired in U.S. A. Cover design by Rachel. This design is in the public domain.

Wet Magic

Wet Magic

E. Nesbit